

Matthew G. Garoufalis, DPM, FASPS, DABPM, CWS, FFPM RCPS
(Glasg), FRSM

Dr. Garoufalis is a Past President of the American Podiatric Medical Association and is the Past President of the International Federation of Podiatrists. He is a Clinical Associate Professor of Podiatric Medicine and Surgery, at the Western University of Health Sciences in Pomona, CA and is a current member of the International Association of Diabetic Foot Surgeons. He has a private practice in Chicago and is part of the Advent and University of Chicago Health System. Dr. Garoufalis is Board Certified by the American Board of Podiatric Surgery and American Board of Podiatric Medicine with Added Qualification in Wound Care and Limb Preservation. Dr. Garoufalis is also the Chair of the Alliance of Wound Care Stakeholders. Dr. Garoufalis is the Chief Medical Officer for Advanced Oxygen Therapy, Inc. He is also the current President of the American Board of Podiatric Medicine – International. He is a noted, award winning researcher and author of many articles and, as an invited speaker, has accepted speaking engagements for educational lectures, seminars, and workshops, both nationally and internationally, on a variety of topics pertinent to wound care, limb salvage, podiatric medicine and surgery, and practice management. He is considered a Key Opinion Leader in many areas.